By PRANK P. DOLE.

We live in an age of reforms, and especially things in a sanitary way are receiving special attention, so as to prevent the spread of disease or contagion, no matter how insignificant. In the domain of the dogs health and cleanly most are of interest just now, and I would suggest to the Weathinster Kennel Club that before its exhibit next Pebruary the basement where the dogs for confined be thoroughly disinfected sand finite three days' show will be a great likely in reducing the number of distemper cases I am of the opinion that twice as much care should be taken against this sourge. Another thing I would suggest at this time is that the kennel club are point of world and sund the control of the large kennels in the East and see whether of the large kennels in the East and see whether of the large kennels in the East and see whether the large kennels in the East a

The red deep coated Irish terrier SPEED SKATERS TO In the shows of the Old World it has been recognized for the past forty years, but the blue kind never received any encouragement. Of course, the blue terrier is not new by any means, as the color came from a cross with the Bedlington terrier, a dog fast fading away from the leading shows of the British isles. It is curious enough that a cross between a Manchester terrier and an Irish terrier will produce a sort of potted blue. That is, the get will show a white shade on the flank and toward

J. H. Farwell Retires.

Lovers of the fox terrier will be sorry to hear of the retirement of J. H. Farwell of the Sabine Kennels, Orange, Texas. For the past twenty-five years he has been one of the leading breeders of wire and smooth fox terriers in the United States and some of his specimens have been sent to all parts of the world. He has been well known in an official capacity and only two years ago he acted as judge of the breed at the Westminster Kennel Club show, "I am through; it is a thankless task after all," said Mr. Farwell recently, it was learned that the chief reason for his retirement was the failure to raise terriers in Texas, owing to the prevalence of the hookworm.

Fishing in Southern Waters.

Some interesting facts about tarpon fishing at Foint Isabell and Madena Lake, Texas, where President-select Harding was recently are brought forward by Mr. W. H. Furlons of San Antonio, Texas, who was in New York during the last week and stopped at the Hotel Woodstock.

"Tarpon fishing is at its best off the Texastons, and the Hotel Woodstock.

"Tarpon fishing is at its best off the Texastons, and the Jarken Hotel, Howeving of the black bass fishing at Medena Lake, Mr. Harding expressed a keen desired to spend a couple of days there, but it the last minute he abandoned his trip. In addition to the fine fishing of the coast, duck shooting is all that may be desired. All species of ducks are found in the bays is along the southern coast, and particularly in the waters of Dela Guna Madre.

"Medena Lake Is-considered the best black bass fishing grounds in America. It is connected with San Antonio by a splendid highway to a country of rare seemle beauty. The lake is artificial, and the largest of its kind in the southwest. It reaches some eighteen miles back in the hills. A recent visitor in San Antonio boasting of his bass fishing in Maine sand speaking proudly of a 3th pounder he had landed, was told that is the size fish we use in Medena Lake for bait. Bass weighing four to eight pounds are frequently caught 11% being the largest recorded."

their varsity and freshman crews to Cayuga Lake on May 31 next, insuring one big home rowing date. Cornell will row Harvard at Cambridge probably on May 23. The Ithacans will compete in the intercollegiate regatta, and the belief here is that that regatta will be rowed on the Hudson at Poughkeepsie. That will suit Cornell.

John Hoyle, Courtney's successor as rowing coach, is saying little but sawing wood. Hoyle has eight combinations in dally practice in the crew room and he has more than 200 candidates on the rolls.
